Paints

I Paint Solvent free - I don't use Mineral Spirits, Turpentine or Gamsol.

The paint I use is traditional oil paint. It is solvent free and made with walnut oil. I use a small jar of walnut oil to clean my brushes between applications of paint and soap and water to clean up after the painting is completed. For a painting medium I use M.Graham Walnut Alkyd Medium - also solvent and toxin free. Painting in oils without solvents is better for you and the environment

Colours I will use.

- Ultramarine Blue
- Burnt Umber
- Quinacridone Magenta OR Alizarin Crimson
- Lemon or Hansa Yellow
- Titanium White

Acrylic paint is also very welcome! You basically you need a dark blue, a dark red and a cool yellow, burnt umber and white. Artist Quality Brand Paint is preferred - there is a difference.

Painting surfaces

Artist Quality Panels or canvases. Panel sizes - I will be using 9 x 12. Artist Quality Canvas or canvas panels, a good quality canvas will be much easier to paint on. Gessoed hardboards are also a good alternative. There are 8 classes - so eight canvas or panels needed for this class
