

Bold and Brushy Paint Your Pet Materials List

*Sketch paper

*Pencil & eraser

*Surface: 4 surfaces (canvas, canvas board, wood panel, etc..). Any range between 8x10 inches to 9x12 inches to 11x14 inches is all good.

*Paint- Both oil and acrylic paints are acceptable. Colours we will be using are as follows:

White

Naples Yellow

Yellow Ocher

Cadmium Red

Alizarin Crimson

Burnt Sienna

(Burnt Umber)

(Viridian)

Cobalt Blue

Ultramarine Blue

Ivory Black

*Thinner: If you are using traditional oil paint, I recommend using a non-toxic thinner such as linseed oil, walnut oil or safflower oil available at art stores.

*Container for thinner: We will need a small container with a lid to contain the thinner. The diameter needs to be wide enough to cover the largest brush you have.

*Brush cleaner: Odorless mineral spirits (such as Gamsol) for rinsing brushes. For those who prefer a safer alternative, safflower oil may be used since it is effective for basic brush cleaning and is a non-toxic option.

*Container for brush cleaner

*Palette - disposable or reusable

*Brushes – I recommend that you experiment with a handful of brushes of various shapes, textures and sizes. I use mostly filbert, ranging from about size 2 to 8. The biggest brush for this project should be about the width of two fingers. A mixture of bristle and synthetic or sable brushes is nice to have to explore different textures. A worn, textured brush and a fine-point detail brush are useful for painting pet portraits.

*(Optional): palette knife

*Paper towel

*Table cloth